ISLiST-2018/UIMP Invited Speaker Recognized by Prestigious International Organization

Eli Yablonovitch Awarded 2018 IEEE Edison Medal

"For leadership, innovations, and entrepreneurial achievements in photonics, semi-conductor lasers, antennas, and solar cells."

The Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers, IEEE, Edison Medal is only awarded to a new leap/breakthrough in the technological area of science. It is the oldest and most coveted medal in this field of engineering in the United States.

Prof. Eli Yablonovitch is Director of the NSF Center for Energy Efficient Electronics Science, University of California, Berkeley, USA. He, with Prof. Russell (Director of Max Planck Institute for the Science of Light University Erlangen-Nuremberg, Germany), will be the invited keynote speakers of the Special Session on Photonic Crystals in ISLiST 2018 at UIMP

The International School on Light Sciences and Technologies, ISLiST at Menéndez Pelayo International University, UIMP is an annual prestigious international event, every four week of June. The International School in 2018 will focus on light in Communications and Sensing.
