To promote quality activities and recognize them through their results the OPTOEL'11 AWARDS have been established. The following (not excluding other categories) will be awarded:

- a. OPTOEL'11 AWARD to the best paper.

- b. OPTOEL'11 AWARD to the best PhD student papers.

- c. OPTOEL'11 AWARD to the career.

The awards will be assigned taking into account the marks obtained by the contributions during the peer-review process from at least two researchers of the Scientific Committee.

Both awards will include a gift and a certificate. Those included in section b) will also be awarded with a subscription to SPIE (sponsoring institution of the awards) and, the one with the highest marks, also with a cash prize.

Only if the first author explicitly indicates the opposite, all the contributions will be considered to participate in the OPTOEL'11 AWARDS.

If the first author is a student (and this will be also applicable to all the students registered for OPTOEL'11), he/she will have to claim that condition by means of an official document that will
